

CONTENTS

Contributors	x
1 Innovative and global directions for inclusive education in the 21st century Matthew J. Schuelka and Suzanne Carrington	1
PART I
Conceptual innovation	27
2 International perspectives on inclusive education in rural contexts: Finding (un)common ground Julie Dillon-Wallace	29
3 Beginning with language: Inclusive education strategies with sign languages in Rwanda, Singapore, United States, and Việt Nam Audrey Cooper, Sonia Holzman, Maegan Shanks, and Phoebe Tay	45
4 Affects and materiality in Santiago de Chile's schools: The importance of relationality in the co-enactment of inclusion Rosario Palacios	66
5 Conceptualising inclusion within Indonesian contexts Nur Azizah, Elga Andriana, and David Evans	81

- 6 Is inclusive education enough for Australian Aboriginal students?:
Making the case for belonging education to disrupt the normalised agenda of assimilation 99
Sheelagh Daniels-Mayes, Gary Fry, and Karen Sinclair

PART II

Pragmatic innovation 117

- 7 Visibly rewarding learners for academic achievement:
The guise of excellence 119
Shakira Akabor
- 8 Diagnosis, integration, and inclusion: The experiences of schools and families in Cambodian policy and practice 135
Anne E. Crylen
- 9 Talking about self: Exploring the potential of teacher's talk in professional learning communities for inclusive pedagogy 151
Wacango Kimani
- 10 Localizing a universal claim: Applying universal design strategies to support inclusion in Armenia 169
Armenuhi Avagyan, Christopher Johnstone, Ofelia Asatryan, Lilia Khachatryan, and Aleksandr Shagafyan
- 11 Critical reflexivity as a pedagogy for inclusivity
in teacher education 183
Levan Lim and Thana Thaver
- 12 Re-turning insights on belonging: An international collaboration between Flanders and New Zealand 200
Hanne Vandenbussche, Elisabeth De Schauwer, Evelyn Christina, Missy Morton, and Geert Van Hove

PART III

Methodological innovation 215

- 13 Being seen and heard: Using photovoice methodology
in inclusive education research 217
Alisha M. B. Braun

14	Collaborative B-learning as a tool to studying and preparing for inclusion in a culturally diverse environment Silvia Romero-Contreras, Ismael García-Cedillo, and Gabriela Silva-Maceda	231
15	Into the mesa: A case study of Jordanian inclusion policy Sarah K. Benson	255
16	Becoming an activist: A story of parental advocacy for inclusive education Glenys Mann and the Queensland Collective for Inclusive Education	276
17	Exploring the congruence between Bhutanese teachers' views about inclusion, Gross National Happiness, and Buddhism Dawa Dukpa, Suzanne Carrington, Sofia Mavropoulou, and Matthew J. Schuelka	293
	Index	312