

Contents

Foreword	vii
1 Introduction FEDERIGA BINDI	1
PART I
The Foreign Policy of the EU and of Its Member States
2 EU Foreign and Defense Policies and Transatlantic Relations: Friends and Foes FEDERIGA BINDI	11
3 The Foreign Policy of France: Continuity and Change ALEKSANDER LUST	31
4 The Foreign Policy of Germany: Economic Giant, Foreign Policy Dwarf? JAN TECHAU	67
5 Italy: The Middle Country FEDERIGA BINDI	91

6	Great Britain's Foreign Policy Dilemmas KLAUS LARRES	109
7	Spain: Foreign Relations and Foreign Policy JOAQUÍN ROY	137
8	From Soviet Satellite to Regional Power: Poland after 1989 MICHELA CECCORULLI AND SERENA GIUSTI	161
9	Danish Foreign Policy: From Pastry to Bloody Denmark? JONAS PARELLO-PLESNER	179
10	The Foreign Policy of the Czech Republic: Domestic Politics Back with a Vengeance DAVID CADIER	199

PART II

The Cold War Superpowers in a Hot World

11	Russia's Staunch Foreign Policy in a Wavering Landscape SERENA GIUSTI	219
12	The Foreign Policy of the United States: Indispensable No More? JUSSI M. HANHIMÄKI	239
13	Conclusion: The Unbearable Weight of History and the End of Transatlantic Relations? FEDERIGA BINDI	269
	Contributors	299
	Index	301