

CONTENTS

List of Tables	xi
List of Figures	xiii
Acknowledgments	xv
Notes on the Contributors	xvii
1 Global Trends, Diversity, and Local Democracy Jill Simone Gross and Robin Hambleton	1
Globalization and Urbanization: The Twin Challenges for Civic Leaders	1
Alternative City Futures	3
Globalization and the Modern City	3
Our Urban Future	5
Embracing the Multicultural City	7
Putting the Government Back into Governing	8
Outline of the Book	10
Notes	12
I Global Pressures on Urban Governance	13
Introduction to Part I	13
2 Rethinking Globalization—The Impact of Central Governments on World Cities Takashi Tsukamoto and Ronald K. Vogel	15
Globalization and Cities	15
Globalization and Political Decentralization	16
Research Questions and Four Perspectives on World Cities	19
The Study	22
Findings and Analysis	23
Conclusions	30
3 Governing the Capital—Comparing Institutional Reform in Berlin, London, and Paris Manfred Röber and Eckhard Schröter	33
Big City Government: Global Challenges and Institutional Capacity	33
Toward “Convergence” or “Persisting Divergence” in Big City Government?	34

Making Sense of Institutional Variety	35
The Rise of Big City Government in the Era of Industrialization and Urbanization	35
Capitals and Their Regions: Suburbanization and the Postwar "Planning Mood"	37
Capital Cities in the International Market Place: Increased Globalization	41
Conclusions	42
4 Uneven Development, City Governance, and Urban Change—Unpacking the Global-Local Nexus in Dublin's Inner City Michael Punch, Declan Redmond, and Sinead Kelly	45
Introduction	45
A Note on Sources and Methods	46
Theoretical Context: Uneven Development and Locality	46
Changing Urban Governance Regimes: Entrepreneurial Planning in Dublin	50
Impacts of Entrepreneurial Governance: The Case of the Liberties-Coombe	52
Conclusions	55
5 Urban Governance in Developing Countries: Experiences and Challenges Richard E. Siren	57
Introduction	57
Dimension One: Capacity	58
Dimension Two: Finance	61
Dimension Three: Horizontal and Vertical Diversity	63
Dimension Four: Authority and the Recomposition of Local Government	65
Conclusions	68
Note	69
II Innovations in Urban Government	71
Introduction to Part II	71
6 Diversity and the Democratic Challenge—Governing World Cities Jill Simone Gross	73
Introduction	73
The Diversity-Democracy Challenge	74
The Democratic Governing Challenge	76
Case 1: Copenhagen—High Democratic Capacity	79
Case 2: Paris: Denial of Diversity—or Capacity but No Political Will	83
Case 3: Toronto's Split Personality—Political Will but No Capacity	85
Conclusions	88
Appendix	89
Notes	90

7 Changing Forms of Urban Government in Central and Eastern Europe Pawel Swianiewicz	93
Introduction—Setting the Scene	93
Decentralization in Central and Eastern Europe—A Time of Transition	94
Exploring Some Claims About Local Government in Central and Eastern Europe	96
Five Propositions Relating to Local Government in Central and Eastern Europe	97
The Impact of Territorial Fragmentation	101
The Impact of Direct Election of Mayors	105
Conclusions	108
Appendix	110
Notes	111
8 Innovation in Chinese Urban Governance: The Shanghai Experience Tingwei Zhang	113
Economic Reform and Urbanization in China	113
Shanghai—China's Economic Center	114
Economic Restructuring in Shanghai	116
Spatial Reorganization in Shanghai	118
Changes in Urban Governance	119
Municipal Government and Urban Districts	120
The Growing Influence of Street Offices	122
The Emergence of New Stakeholders	123
Conclusions	124
9 Urban Challenges in Latin American Cities: Medellín and the Limits of Governance John J. Betancur	125
Introduction	125
The Trajectory of the City	126
The Impact of Globalization—Economic Restructuring	128
Economic and Social Implications	130
Currents of Change and the Challenge for Urban Governance	131
Implications for Urban Governance	134
Notes	136
10 Metropolitan Governance in Australia—The Sydney Experience Daniel Kübler and Bill Randolph	139
Introduction	139
Governing Australian Cities: The Intergovernmental Context	140
Globalization and Urban-Regional Restructuring in Sydney	141
The Failure of Structural Territorial Reform in Metropolitan Sydney	143
Strengthening Government Capacities: The Latest Metropolitan Strategy	145
Governance from Below: The Emerging Mosaic of Subregional Governance in Western Sydney	147

Conclusions	149
Notes	150
11 The New Ecology of Urban Governance: Special-Purpose Authorities and Urban Development Dennis R. Judd and James M. Smith	151
Why Special Authorities?	151
What is a Special Authority?	153
Urban Development in the United States: A History of Constraint	154
The Challenge of Accountability	156
Transparency and Corrigibility	157
III Leadership, Partnership, and the Democratic Challenge	161
Introduction to Part III	161
12 New Leadership for Democratic Urban Space Robin Hambleton	163
Introduction	163
Government, Governance, and Governing	164
Understanding City Management	165
Understanding City Leadership	168
Local Leaders—Stakeholders Great and Small	169
The Modern Urban Leadership Agenda	171
Conclusions	175
Notes	176
13 Building the Global City—The Immigrant Experience of Urban Revitalization Janice Bockmeyer	177
Immigrants and Urban Governance	177
The Origins of Neighborhood Management	178
Neighborhood Management and Engagement	179
Immigrants and Engagement	179
Neighborhood Management and New Community Governance Strategies	180
How Does Neighborhood Management Impact Immigrant Participation?	182
Conclusions	187
Notes	188
14 Professionals and the Conflicting Forces of Administrative Modernization and Civic Engagement John Nalbandian	189
Modernizing the Organization	190
Citizen Engagement	190
The Gap between Elected Officials and Professional Staff (Bureaucrats)	192
The Gap between Department Heads and the Chief Administrative Officer	193
The Gap between Governing Institutions and Community-Based Politics	194
The Gap between Technical Specialists and Citizens	194
The Gap between Policy and Place	194

Bridging the Gaps	194
Bridge-Building Responsibilities, Roles, and Values	195
Bridges as the Foundation of Civic Discovery	196
Conclusions	197
Notes	198
15 Against “Partnership”: Toward a Local Challenge to Global Neoliberalism Jonathan S. Davies	199
Introduction	199
Regime Politics and Democratic Inclusion	200
The Partnership Narrative: A Neoliberal Consensus	201
The Partnership Technocracy	202
The Conjunction of Markets and Hierarchies	206
Partnership Exit as a Strategy for Democratic Inclusion	208
Conclusions	209
IV Governing Cities in a Global Era	211
16 From Governance to Governing Robin Hambleton and Jill Simone Gross	213
Introduction	213
The World is Not Flat	214
Government, Governance, and Governing—Clarifying Meanings	215
Government, Governance, and Governing—Arguments and Issues	216
Dynamic Diversity in the Modern City	218
Multilevel Governance and the City	220
Leadership and Local Democracy	222
Cross-National Policy Transfer	223
City Futures	224
Bibliography	225
Index	255