

Table of Contents

Introduction

Boris Stojkovski

I

Herodotus as a Travel Writer

Svetozar Boškov

1

Travelling as a Hostage:

The Testimony of Kaminiates's Capture of Thessalonike

Konstantinos Karatolios

19

Travelling and Travellers: Persons, Reasons, and Destinations

According to A Tale of the Iron Cross

Yanko Hristov

33

Medieval Travels and the Ensuing Texts as Mirrors of a Society, a Culture, and a World View

Paulo Catarino Lopes

55

Southern Hungary and Serbia in al-Idrisi's Geography

Boris Stojkovski

113

The Perception of the Balkans in Western Travel Literature from the Eleventh to the Fourteenth Century

Nebojša Kartalija

141

From Mačva to Tarnovo: On the Roads of the Balkan Politics of Prince Rostislav Mikhailovich

Djura Hardi

167

Echoes of Constantinople:
Rewriting the Byzantine Soundscape in Travel Accounts

Marie-Emmanuelle Torres

193

The Temptations of the Night Journey: An Image from the Voyage of Nicephorus Gregoras through Serbia

Radivoj Radić

215

Dante (1265-1321): The Exile and Birth of a Pilgrim

Sandra Dučić Collette

221

The Journey of The Gift of the Noble

Shiva Mihan

245

The South Slavic Parish in Light of Stephen Gerlach's
Travel Diary

Stanoje Bojanin

265

Vegetation in the Territories of Serbia and Southern Hungary in Travel Accounts (Fifteenth–Seventeenth Centuries)

Aleksandar Krstić

295