

Contents

- Preface: The Thinker of a Thousand Faces* ix
1. From Humanism to Politics i
 - Paradise Lost i
 - Revolution! 8
 - The Constant Reading of Ancient Things 16
 - The Sustained Experience of Modern Things 23
 2. The People's Prince 33
 - Illusion, Foundations, and Flux 33
 - The Prince* as a "Mirror" 37
 - The Prince* as a "Counsel" 42
 - Instrumental Virtues 53
 - The Art of Bonds 62
 3. In the Garden with the Romans 69
 - What If? Learning from the Past's Futures 69
 - The Discourses on Livy* and the "Discourse Form" 79
 - Constitutional Engineering 86
 - In the Footsteps of Dionysius 93

viii | Contents

Positive Conflicts (and Other Brilliant Ideas)	98
How Republics Die	107
Civic Religion: The Ancients and the Moderns	114
How Republics Survive	118
4. Comeback Kid	125
Politics, Again	125
Florence on the Stage: The Mandrake	128
The Invention of Tactics: The Art of War	134
Political Theory by Other Means:
The Florentine Histories	146
5. Beyond	161
A Contested Legacy (1523–1539)	161
Condemnations and Adaptations (1540–1815)	172
In the Mirror of the French Revolution (1816–1945)	184
In the Mirror of the Weimar Republic (1946–Today)	199
Chronology	211
Further Readings	215
Index	227