

TABLE OF CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION	9
1. A peasant religion, or popular religion?	9
2. Chronological framework and geographical aspects. Records and other sources explored	14
3. Postscript	22
I. THE FRAMEWORK OF EARLY MODERN PEASANT RELIGION	25
1. The mediaeval legacy and Reformation influences	25
2. Counter-Reformation in the countryside: the participation of peasants in religious cult	28
3. Counter-Reformation in the countryside: the teaching and the sacraments	36
4. Early modern religious culture and peasant religion	49
5. Religious attitudes among the peasantry	60
II. THE SOCIAL DIMENSION OF PEASANT RELIGION	67
1. The village community as a religious unit and ceremonial community	67
2. Religious confraternities in rural areas	78
3. Religion as the basis for the village's social structure	88
4. Social harmony as religious value	102
5. The role of religion-related individuals in the life of village communities	109

III. THE ECONOMIC DIMENSION OF PEASANT RELIGION	119
1. The cost of participating in religious life	119
2. Obligations and duties towards the Church, iura stolae offerings	129
3. Customary offerings and contributions related to religious rites	138
4. Religious factors in peasants' economic lives	143
IV. RELIGIOSITY AND MORALITY	153
1. The background behind the rural moral standards	153
2. The functioning of the peasant ethical system	157
3. Sexual ethics of peasants in the light of the Christian model	166
4. Confession and conscience	180
5. Fear of God and Divine punishment	185
6. Salvation and condemnation	190
V. RELIGIOUSNESS AND SUPERSTITION	197
1. Magic and superstition in the peasant vision of the world	197
2. Magical practices in the countryside	205
3. Persecutions of witches in rural settings	216
4. Superstition Christianised	224
5. On the borderline of religion and magic	234
CONCLUSION	245
ABBREVIATIONS	249
CODEWORDS OF FREQUENTLY QUOTED SOURCES	251

TABLE OF CONTENTS

7

REFERENCES	263
A. Sources	263
1. Manuscripts	263
2. Old prints	278
3. Modern prints (nineteenth century onwards)	280
B. Studies and monographs	283
INDEX	299